LIFE OF SAVAGE

TRULY SENSIBLE

Ailments Almost Unknown by Aborigines Are Common Now.

The theory that most of the ailments of today are caused almost entirely by those habits that distinguish the white man from his long ago brother, the savage, is more widely discussed every day.

The savage, in many ways, was a more sensible being than the man who made war on him and then seized his birthright. It has been said, by medical authorities, that nine out of ten cases of sickness can be traced to a disordered stomach, and that the ailments are due, in a large measure, to excessive eating and drinking and to little healthful outdoor exercise.

Common sense should be used in our mode of living. It was with this end in view that Joseph Von Trimbach, the noted chemist and originator of so many health aids, gathered herbs, roots, barks and flowers from the most remote parts of the world and spent years of his life in experimenting and study before he arrived at the solution of the problem of relieving stomach troubles. He named his discovery Tanlac. Tanlac has met with instant favor wherever it has been introduced. It has created a romance in the business world. Hundreds of thousands of sufferers have realized the benefits of this great reconstructive tonic.

Tanlac is believed to act more favorably, because of the nature of its ingredients, on ailments of the stomach, liver and kidneys, and no catarrhal affections of the mucous membranes, which, when neglected, are so often communicated to the vital organs themselves, than any other known preparation. This ideal reconstructive tonic, appetizer, invigorant and builder of tissues has been lauded by men and women in all walks of life. It has proved a boon for sufferers from those all too common ailments.

Tanlac now is being especially introduced in Cloverport, Ky., at Wedding's Drug Store, where the Tanlac man explains its merits and the results which may be expected from its use.

Coffee Dear as Gold Along Mexican Front.

Gold is the word which has been adopted along Perishing's Camp at the Front in Mexico, to describe coffee. A teaspoon full of coffee will buy more than a gold coin, and the rich color of the coffee, enhanced by its scarcity, has fixed the nickname firmly for this campaign. An officer at this camp recently, dealing out the day's coffee ration to a soldier, advised him to save his coffee grounds for second boiling in case of temporary delay in the arrival of new supply trains. The officer said he had used one set of grounds eleven times. Another officer offered one dollar in gold for a cup of well used coffee grounds and his bid was refused.

A soldier is said to have paid one dollar apiece for ordinary American cigarettes.

Got Things Mixed.

The printers "devil" was making up his first form. The paper was late and the boy got the galleys mixed. The first part of the obituary notice of a pecunious citizen had been dumped in the form and the next handful of type came off the galley describing a recent fire. It read like this: "The pallbearers lowered the body into the grave and it was consigned to the flames. There were few if any regrets, for the old wreck had been an eye sore to the town for years. Of course there was individual loss but that was fully covered by insurance." The widow thinks the editor wrote the obituary that way because the lamented partner of her joys owed him five years' subscription.—Ex.

ment should make it known that the collecting and saving of rags and old papers would greatly better existing conditions for American manufacturers.

Something like 15,000 tons of different kinds of paper and board are manufactured every day in the United States, and a large part of this, after it has served its purpose, could be used over again in some class of paper.
